MSA Expands Fall Protection Footprint with New Will-Call Facilities

To: Channel Partners and End-Users

At MSA, we understand the importance of project timelines and how delays can impact the bottom line. So to ensure you have the products you need WHEN you need them. We are pleased to announce the opening of two new will call centers for fall protection to support our customer base across the United States and Canada! In addition to our will-call facility in Houston, the following centers are now able to accommodate your fall protection needs:

Los Angeles, CA

179 Grand Avenue
City of Industry, CA 91789

Edmonton, Canada

12130 154th Street
Edmonton, AB T5V 1J2

Offering increased coverage to the West coast and into Canada, these new will call centers will reduce lead times and have select product available when you need it. These locations will complement the high level of support our MSA team of territory sales managers provides throughout the US and Canada.

To find an MSA sales representative nearest you, please contact us at 1-800-672-2222.

In addition to our new will-call facilities, we are also in the process of expanding our state-of-the-art safety training facilities into the West coast region. Look for future communications from us as we continue to develop our capabilities and expand our fall protection footprint.
